It was the largest such specialty firm in Northern California and one of the largest in the United States. During 14 years of practice, I represented banks, savings and loan associations, developers, title insurance companies, property owners, public entities, citizens' groups, and other corporations, partnerships, and individuals in more than 500 matters in these specialty areas. My clients included American Savings and Loan Association, Bank of America, Clos Pegase Winery, First American Title Insurance Company, Great Western Bank, Kaiser-Aetna, McKesson Corporation, Safeco Title Insurance Company, and World Savings and Loan Association. This work mainly involved handling real property and environmental litigation in state and federal courts, but included advising on various issues affecting real property and negotiating real estate transactions. I was on leave from the firm in 1981-82 (to teach at Stanford) and again in 1991-92 (to teach at Santa Clara). My administrative work at the firm included serving as the managing partner and as a department head.
